The Shift

NOVEMBER 2023

A newsroom as unique as its investigations

We are community-funded

Thousands of loyal readers who believe in The Shift's mission sustain us through regular contributions.

We are fully transparent

We are firm believers in full transparency of media ownership and other interests including main sources of revenue. We are the only local newsroom that publishes funding and expenditure information on an annual basis based on audited financial statements.

We fight for honest businesses

By addressing issues of corruption and government handouts to companies not based on skill but as pay back for party support, and by publishing unjustified direct orders and preferential treatment, we help create the pressure to enable a more level playing field for companies that have worked hard and invested in providing a good service to the community. We understand that there are businesses that suffer as a result of corruption. We are for fairness and justice at every level of society.

Award-winning journalism

The Shift was founded by Caroline Muscat, a journalist boasting prestigious international awards unique to the journalism sector in Malta, such as the Reporters Without Borders Press Freedom Award for Independence in 2019, and the US Embassy Award for Courage in 2020.

The Shift has also been listed as one of Europe's leading media startups in 2021 by the Financial Times' publication Sifted.

Groundbreaking stories

We don't stall on hard-hitting investigations when doors are shut, or when we are bullied or threatened with financially-crippling libel suits. We are proud to have never lost a single libel case because of our thorough, fact-verification process. Our achievements are a result of our commitment and determination to get to the bottom of our stories.

Here are some of our most prominent ones:

Joseph Muscat paid €120,000 in secret golden handshake

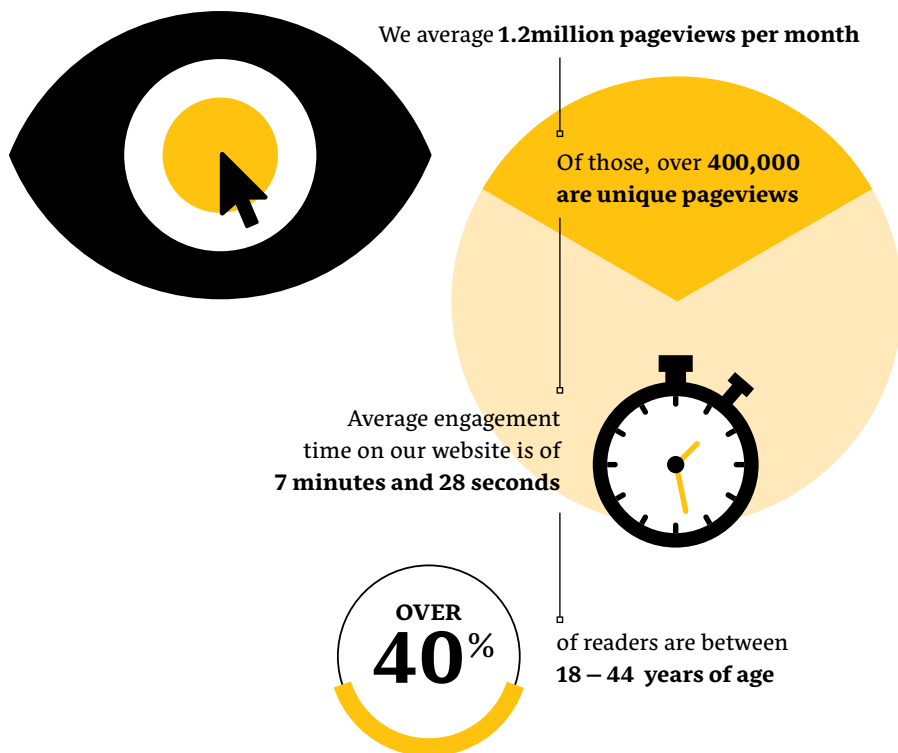

Leaked emails show Konrad Mizzi gifted Electrogas over €40 million in excise tax refunds

Tumuluri handed over concession after 'death threats of ending up like Caruana Galizia'

FOI reveals Caruana lied to Parliament, Air Malta chair paid €21,500 a month

Our Corporate Democratic Responsibility Programme (CDR)

Issues with democracy are rampant. At The Shift, our daily mission is to fight for a more democratic Malta – a goal shared by many organisations based in Malta.

We are the only newsroom in Malta not to accept funds, directly or through advertising, from the government or political parties. This position ensures The Shift will never be politically compromised.

By advertising with The Shift, and participating in our CDR programme, you too will be playing a part in creating a healthier, better-functioning democracy that will consequently also help create a level playing field for businesses.

We have staff dedicated to this programme who are happy to discuss the benefits.
